Hallett's line of souvenir spoons is the most attractive in the city. In fact Hallett leads in everything in the silverware and jewelry line. This however is an old and well known reputation that the pioneer jeweler established years ago. Of course you have seen souvenir spoons either at the home of some friend or in the store windows and you must admit of their novelty and usefulness. The average present given a young lady is some trinket that is soon broken, lost and forgotten. Not so with a souvenir spoon. These pretty tokens are collected and kept for life and young ladies find in them years of remembrance. They use them now and after marriage even more so. Think how pretty it is for a dozen people to be seated at a table and each have a spoon of different design and city. There are numerous ladies in Lincoln that have a dozen spoons of as many different cities or designs. They make the most useful, yet the most novel and inexpensive token you can get. Go see Hallett, 113 north Eleventh street and secure one or more before the best of the assortment is picked out.

New styles of invitations just in at THE COURIER office.

Brown's restaurants are the only ones in the city for ladies. The menu is extensive and embraces all the seasons latest delicacies while the prices are extremely low.

Mr. Clark, to the Public.

I wish to say to my friends and the public, that I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the best preparation in use for Colic and Diarrhoea. It is the finest selling medicine I ever handled, because it always gives satisfaction. O. H. Clark, Orangeville, Texas. For sale by Chas. C. Reed, Druggist.

Unpardonable Rudeness.

Miss Marie—Oh, say, ma, I happened to say something to Jennie Figg about our cook being a widow woman, and she says "widow woman" kinder low to herself, and then snickered. I wonder if I said anything out of the way?

Mrs. Gastruck—Of course you did. You ought said "widow lady." Ain't you never going to learn no manners?—Indianapolis Journal.

Prison Statistics.

Said the superintendent of the Texas penitentiary, at Huntsville, to a newly arrived delegate:

"You have the privilege of working at any trade you prefer."

"I'd like to keep on drivin' cattle to Kansas."

Another gentleman in the same institution wanted to be a sailor.—Texas Sittings.

It Is True.

First Boarder—Here I've waited an hour for soup, and now that it has come there's a roach in it.

Second Boarder—That proves the truth of an old maxim.

First Boarder—In what way?

Second Boarder—That all things come to him who waits.—Detroit Free Press.

Bliss vs. Blister.

Where Ignorance is Bliss, 'tis Folly to be Blister.

An ill-fitting boot or shoe is not conducive to bliss; more likely to produce blisters, and where, oh where, is bliss if blisters prevail? On the other hand, a perfect fitting shoe is a jewel, easy to sell, easy to wear, making fast friends with every one that wears it. The shoes that are manufactured to-day conform to the requirements of the average foot much better than the shoes that were made three to five years ago. We have no old shoes in our shop. Every blessed pair of them was made expressly for us and over the improved lasts of today. This is one of the reasons we have so little trouble to fit you. The other and main one is a pretty fair knowledge of the art of fitting, coupled with a real desire to do it thoroughly and conscientiously. You don't have to pay anything extra for the "know how." That "know how" is worth a good bit to us. Is it worth anything to you?
